Creating the Next Graduate

Georgia Tech offers more than 36 undergraduate majors and 57 minors in many science and engineering disciplines. Tech also offers majors in business, public policy, design, and pre-professional areas. The Office of Undergraduate Education (OUE) can help students succeed, no matter what major they choose. OUE’s programs enhance students’ time at Tech and prepares them for the next phase of their lives. Whether that means pursuing another degree or moving into the career field, OUE can help.

ENHANCING YOUR UNDERGRADUATE CAREER

Georgia Tech Office of Undergraduate Education

A unit of the provost’s office and led by the vice provost for Undergraduate Education, the Office of Undergraduate Education (OUE) maintains the quality of undergraduate education and promotes the academic success of undergraduate students. OUE includes:

- Center for Academic Enrichment (CAE)
- Center for Academic Success (CAS)
- Center for Career Discovery and Development (C2D2)
- Center for Serve-Learn-Sustain (CSLS)
- Honors Program (HP)

OUE’s mission is to maintain the quality of undergraduate education and the academic success of undergraduate students.

To uphold this mission, OUE creates new curricular and co-curricular activities, advocates for undergraduate students and their academic concerns, and manages institute policies that affect them.

OUE ensures the success of undergraduate students during their time at Georgia Tech with programs for advising, tutoring, experiential learning, and by fostering student/faculty interactions. OUE also helps students utilize resources for exploring and pursuing meaningful careers after graduation.

OUR DEPARTMENTS

OUE has several departments that provide exemplary academic support programs and services that enrich the learning experience of undergraduates within an engaging and welcoming environment.

- Center for Academic Enrichment (CAE)
  CAE fosters faculty/student interaction through a variety of programs, seminars, living-learning communities and other events in which ideas can be exchanged and new initiatives can be developed.
